please continue on a separate sheet

Criminal convictions

You are not requested to disclose details of any convictions that are spent or motoring offences for which a fine and/or up to three penalty points were imposed at this stage, although those applying to professional training programmes for certain professions will be asked to make a further declaration at a later stage. Applicants who state 'Yes' will be contacted for further information. Failure to complete this section will result in a delay in processing the form.

Do you have any criminal convictions? (see notes below)

Yes

The Criminal Convictions Declaration and Risk Assessment Process

The University has a risk assessment process designed to reduce the risk of harm or injury to members of the University population caused by the criminal behaviour of any student. We therefore need to know about any relevant criminal convictions that an applicant has. Tick 'yes' only if you have a relevant criminal conviction as explained below.

Relevant criminal convictions are only those convictions for offences against the person, whether of a violent or sexual nature, and convictions for offences involving unlawfully supplying controlled drugs or substances where the conviction concerns commercial drug dealing or trafficking. Convictions that are spent (as defined by the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1972) are not considered to be relevant and you should not reveal them (however see next paragraph).

If you are applying for a programme in teaching, health, social work and/or any other programme or research involving work with children and/or vulnerable adults, you must tell us about all criminal convictions, including spent sentences, and cautions (including verbal cautions) and bindover orders. For those programmes, you may later be required to have an enhanced Criminal Records Bureau disclosure (www.crb.gov.uk). If your studies start November 2010 or after you may be required to register with the Independent Safeguarding Authority (ISA, www.isa-gov.org).

If you are serving a prison sentence at present, give the prison address as your correspondence address and obtain a reference from a senior prison officer to support your application. Applicants who declare a criminal conviction will not automatically be excluded from the application process but the University will activate the risk assessment process (details of which are available from the Admissions Service) and we will ask for further details before reaching a decision on your application.

If you are convicted of a relevant offence after you have applied, you must inform the Admissions Service immediately in order for the risk assessment process to be followed.
