INTRODUCTION

Reports 1 and 2, the Taylor Report and the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report, shed light on an underexposed theme of research in Britain's imperial past, the enslaved people of Jamaica and the Sea Islands and their descendants, the Gullah Geechee people. It was revealed in Part Two of the report that John Edward Taylor, through his firm, Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co., imported 214 bags of raw cotton from Sea Island planters between 14 August 1822 and 24 April 1823. Equally important is Sir George Philips' role as an enslaver in Jamaica and the enslaved Africans who laboured on Success estate in Hanover, Jamaica. The purpose of this research is to then highlight who were the enslaved Africans who forcibly toiled on these estates and trace their descendants.

This step is aligned with the recommendations of the Report and a core tenet of phases one and two of the research process, placing the enslaved people at the forefront of this research. Tracing the enslaved people and underscoring their names are intrinsic to respectfully highlighting the stories of the enslaved and ensuring that the perspectives of the enslaved are at the centre of the narrative on Britain's legacy of slavery.

The historically white-washed narrative of Britain's legacy of slavery and colonialism tended to treat with the enslaved as a distant, abstract construct or statistic in a distant land, far removed from the eyes of the reader. In highlighting the names and/or identifying details of the enslaved people we are bringing the focus to where it belongs, the enslaved people who were the actual source of the slavery-derived wealth accumulated by the enslavers. In depicting the names and details of the enslaved people connected to Philips' plantation and Taylor's cotton firm, this report attempts to tell part of their story.

This report is the culmination of approximately one month of research.

KEY FINDINGS

- The names and/or details of 250 persons who were enslaved by W.E. Baynard, his father, uncle and his heirs were unearthed through 'Contrabands' list, will and probate inventories and the 1850 and 1860 'U.S. Federal Census Slave Schedules'.
- The names and/or details of persons enslaved by Bailey and his sons, were uncovered through 1850 and 1860 'U.S. Federal Census Slave Schedules', wills and probates, Heritage Library Foundation and U.S., Freedmen's Bureau Records.
- The names and/or details of over 200 persons enslaved by W.O. Prentiss were located utilising the 1850 U.S. Federal Census Slave Schedules' as well as 'Bill of sales of Negro slaves, 1799-1872, Charleston District, South Carolina'.
- The Funder of the Manchester Guardian and partner in Philips, Wood & Co, George William Wood, is not the George William Wood listed as an enslaver on the Legacies of British Slavery Database.
- The names and details of over 100 persons who were enslaved by Sir George Philips through his firm Boddington, Philips, Sharpe & Co on Success estate, Hanover, Jamaica, were identified using the 'Former British Colonial Dependencies, Slave Registers, 1813-1834'.
- The names of four enslaved persons connected to Success estate were found using Royal Gazette of Jamaica 'Apprehended Deserters' adverts.
- The name of at least one enslaved person from Success estate was found in both the 'Apprehender Deserter' section of the Royal Gazette of Jamaica and the "Return of Slaves" for the estate.
- One enslaved man uncovered in relation to Success estate was involved in the Baptist War or Christmas Uprising (1831-32). He was also a member of a Baptist church in Hanover, Jamaica which is still in existence today.

METHODOLOGY

Tracing the descendants of the enslaved is an increasingly complicated endeavour. In the specific case of the US, while the 'United States Census (Slave Schedule), 1850 and 1860' are important to identifying an enslaver and how many enslaved people over whom they claimed ownership, it does not provide their names or identifying details past "age, sex, colour" and disability. Furthermore, although there are various genealogical databases, estate inventories, military and antebellum church records which hold valuable information relating to the enslaved people of the Sea Islands, "fewer than 20% of freed families in the Lowcountry adopted the name of the final slaveholder". In general, "only about 15% of formerly enslaved people took the slave owner's surname". As such, it is challenging to locate records relating to the descendants of the enslaved past the 1870 US Census which was the first of its kind to list freed African Americans by their name. This is termed by genealogists as "the so-called 1870 Brick Wall" where persons tracing their ancestry are generally unable to locate records past 1870.

As a result of the 'Brick Wall' and time constraints, tracing the descendants of the enslaved post 1870 proved to be difficult. This is a task that would require much longer than one month of research. However, this report has endeavoured to highlight the names and/or details of the enslaved people and their descendants connected to Baynard, Bailey and Prentiss enslaver families. 'United States Census (Slave Schedule), 1850 and 1860', 'Slave Registers', 'Bill of sales of Negro slaves, 1799-1872, Charleston District, South Carolina' and 'Contraband' lists proved to be particularly useful at this stage. In terms of Jamaica, the names of over 100 persons enslaved by Philips' firm, Boddington, Philips, Sharpe & Co. were located in 'Slave Registers', 'Runaway' and 'Apprehended Deserters' ads, trial accounts and genealogical databases.

Step 1

Identification of Enslavers & Plantations

The first step of the methodology entailed identifying the enslavers and plantations that would be the starting point of this genealogical journey.

Sea Islands

In the case of the Sea Islands, the section in the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report titled 'Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co's Connection with Enslavers from the Sea Islands' (see page 54 of report), formed the baseline for this step. The Baynard, Bailey and Prentiss families were then selected as the main Sea Island enslavers of focus for this report as:

- There was more certainty regarding the identity of the enslavers cited in the W.G. and J. Strutt Invoice Book, 1822-1825 as it pertains to W.E Baynard, C. Bailey and Prentiss as opposed to other enslavers such as J.F O'hear and Turnbull.
- Time constraints precluded an extensive search of all enslavers and islands mentioned in the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report. As such the Baynard, Bailey and Prentiss families were prioritised.
- Given their prominence as enslavers in South Carolina, a wider availability of resources such as estate inventories, documented enslaved persons and 'contraband' lists exists for the aformentioned enslavers.

Jamaica

George William Wood and Sir George Philips were selected as points of focus for this report based on information contained in the Taylor Report and Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report. Initial research operated on the likelihood that the George William Wood on the Legacies of British Slavery Database who received £495 9s 8d (RPW:£49,900) for 28 persons in Caymanas, Jamaica was likely the same Wood who was a Funder of the Manchester Guardian and partner in the firm Philips, Wood & Co. (See pages 24 to 27 of the Taylor Report and pages 30 to 35 of the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report for detailed information on George William Wood). Research was thus conducted to locate the names of enslaved people associated with Wood and his compensation claim for enslaved people on Caymanas, Jamaica.

Sir George Philips was selected as an enslaver of focus for this report as he was a Funder of the Manchester Guardian with direct links to historical slavery. As an enslaver of over 100 persons on Success plantation in Hanover, Jamaica through the firm Boddington, Philips, Sharp & Co, the enslaved people who were forced to work on Philips' sugar plantation formed a central part of this report.

Step Two

This step involved conducting research on the enslavers of the Sea Islands identified in step one and identifying who were the enslaved people associated with them and their plantations. The following primary and secondary sources and databases proved particularly useful at this stage:

- South Carolina Estate Inventories and Bills of Sale, 1732-1872
- U.S. Colored Troops Military Service Records

- Civil War Pension Index
- Freedman's Bank Records
- 'Bill of sales of Negro slaves, 1799-1872, Charleston District, South Carolina'
- South Carolina, Secretary of State. Records Of Charleston District, Court of Ordinary, Inventories, Appraisements, And Sales Books
- South Carolina Plantations
- The International African American Museum, Center for Family history
- Affidavits made by owners bringing slaves into the state, 1818-1847
- Census of Slave Owners and Slaves, Mortality Records, and Agricultural Census, 1850, 1860
- "'Other Free' Heads of Household in the 1790 South Carolina Census, by County"
- Heritage Library, History & Ancestry Research Center
- Documented Slaves of the Lowcountry Heritage Library Foundation, 2022
- Charleston County, South Carolina inventories, appraisements & sales, ca. 1834-1867
- South Carolina, Charleston District, Estate inventories, 1732-1844
- Land Certificates Sold to Heads of Families of the African Race, 1865-1872
- Index to Land Certificates Sold to Heads of Families of the African Race, 1863-1872
- Index to Hilton Head Island Deeds, 1863 1899
- Lowcountry Africana African American Genealogy in SC, GA and FL
- Federal Writers' Project: Slave Narrative Project, Administrative Files
- The Freedmen's Bureau Online
- 'The Negroes at Port Royal: Report of E. L. Pierce, Government Agent, to the Hon. Salmon P. Chase, Secretary of the Treasury'
- Chronicling America: Historic American Newspapers
- Former British Colonial Dependencies, Slave Registers, 1813-1834
- FamilySearch.org, Ancestry.co.uk, Jamaican Family Search
- LBS database
- Jamaica Gleaner

Step 3

Locating the enslaved people of George Philips' Jamaica estate, Success, formed the basis of this methodological step. 'Former British Colonial Dependencies, Slave Registers, 1813-1834', Royal Gazette of Jamaica 'Runaway' and 'Apprehended Deserter' ads and accounts connected to the 1831-32 'Christmas Uprising' in Jamaica were valuable sources in identifying the names of enslaved persons on Success estate.

Step 4

This stage of the methodology involved the compilation of the names and details of the enslaved persons connected to the relevant enslavers. It was then presented in table formats and in some cases, alongside original archival material, for ease of reading and accessibility.

Step 5

This step related to tracing the descendants of the enslaved people identified in steps two to four of the methodology. However, no tangible results emerged mainly due to the time constraints of the project and lack of preliminary information.

Limitations

The main limitations of this project revolved on its timeline of one month and lack of access to physical archives in the US. Efforts were made to mitigate these limitations through prioritizing of steps one to four of the research process and capitalisation of the online databases and ancestry records as detailed in steps two and three of the methodology.

THE SEA ISLANDS

William Eddings Baynard

As cited in the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report, a W.E. Baynard is listed in the W.G. and J. Strutt invoice book on 16 April 1823 as supplying 12 bags of cotton to Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co. (see page 54 of report). W.E. Baynard was likely William Eddings Baynard (1800-1849) who came from a family of wealthy plantation owners and enslavers on Edisto Island, Hilton Head Island, Bluffton and Savannah. Recounting the details presented in the aforementioned report:

"at the time of exporting Sea Island Cotton to the Strutts for Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co., W.E. Baynard owned Buckingham Plantation and likely the estates acquired from his family, Muddy Creek Plantation and Spanish Wells Plantation".<sup>5</sup>

Efforts were thus made to locate the names of enslaved persons connected with Baynard and these plantations.

Spanish Wells Plantation

Research into the Baynard family revealed the names of some of the enslaved people on the Spanish Wells Plantation, Hilton Head Island. Baynard's father, Thomas Baynard (1763-1805), purchased this estate from John David Mongin at around 1790.<sup>6</sup>

This plantation was inherited by W.E. Baynard and later bequeathed to his children on his death, in 1849.<sup>7</sup> An 1862 report by Captain J.D. Campbell of the Union Forces which listed 'contraband' on the Spanish Wells Plantation, indicated that the plantation belonged to "to four

'Contraband'

This 1862 report made by Captain Campbell was "in response to an order by Major J.M. Kilbourn of the 45th Pennsylvania Regiment, United States Army" and is increasingly important in our search for enslaved persons connected to plantations which exported Sea Island cotton. Listed as 'contrabands', 60 formerly enslaved persons from Spanish Wells plantation were recorded on 13 March 1862. Before listing these names, a brief context of the Sea Islands and the US Civil War in the early 1860s will be given to better understand this period of US history and the term 'contraband'.

The Sea Islands were seized by federal troops led by Commodore S.F. Du Pont on 7 November 1861. "Upon landing his troops, Du Pont found only abandoned plantations and thousands of abandoned slaves". 11 From the very beginning of the Civil War, the enslaved people from Southern plantations attempted to cross over to Union lines in a bid for protection, freedom or to fight for the Union army. These enslaved persons comprised two main groups, 'runaways' and 'contraband'. In the case of the latter, the emergence of this term within the context of enslaved persons began with General Benjamin F. Butler, on 23 May 1861. Following the capture of Fort Monroe, Butler declared three enslaved persons "property of the enemy and as such, subject to confiscation". <sup>12</sup> Secretary of War, Simon Cameron, acknowledged this move and sanctioned the use of the formerly enslaved "in service and labor". The term 'contraband' was formally adopted by Congress on 6 July 1861. <sup>13</sup>

This then places Captain J.D. Campbell's list of 'contrabands' into clearer perspective. His record, lists as 'contraband', the enslaved persons of Spanish Wells plantation following its seizure. Campbell also reported that some of the formerly enslaved people were already employed and that "all express a desire to engage in the Cultivation of the land as free labourers". 14

Interestingly, Campbell asserted that the formerly enslaved persons on Spanish Wells identified their enslavers:

"The Negroes represent themselves as belonging (prior to the bombardment of the late rebel Forts in the vicinity of Port Royal), to four Young ladies, heiresse's of the late "William Baynard" dec'd", the proper. being now in the hands of his executor, Ephraim Baynard". 15

The following 1862 list of names show some of the enslaved people who were forced to work on the Spanish Wells Plantation once owned by W.E. Baynard. Given the age range, it can be concluded that some of those listed would have been enslaved on the plantation in 1823, when Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co. imported Sea Island cotton from Baynard. Additionally, some of the younger persons listed would have been descendants of the enslaved persons who worked on Spanish Wells in the 1820s. As such, the following names of formerly enslaved Africans are very much linked to Taylor and his firm:

Efforts were made to trace the descendants of some of the individuals listed, however, given the commonality of the names, time constraints of the project and general limitations of this type of genealogical research post 1870, no tangible leads were found.

W.E. Baynard's Estate Inventory

As a result of a fire in 1865, probate records relating to Beaufort, South Carolina do not exist. <sup>17</sup> Therefore, the inventory and appraisement of the estate of William E. Baynard relates to Savannah, Georgia and not his South Carolina enslaver holdings.

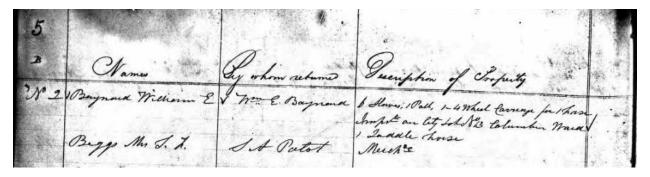

This inventory includes the names of six enslaved persons. Although not directly associated with Hilton Head Island plantations that exported cotton to Taylor's firms, the enslaved persons listed below were part of Baynard's enslaver holdings and contributed to his overall wealth.

Despite the destruction of Beaufort probate inventories, other sources such as antebellum church records may help unearth other enslaved people and their descendants who were connected to Baynard's enslaver holdings.<sup>19</sup>

Muddy Creek Plantation

Muddy Creek and Buckingham Plantations were also owned by Baynard at the time Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co imported Sea Island cotton from him in the 1820s (see page 55 of the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report). These plantations were also located on Hilton Head Island. According to the 'Abstract of Property in the State of South Carolina Lost by the Citizens thereof from the War', Baynard's estate when Hilton Head was seized by Union troops in 1861 "claimed losses of $112,850, including 129 slaves valued at $91,000, 150 bales of cotton valued at $15,000" and other crops, livestock, boats and furniture.<sup>20</sup>

265 acres of No. 12, that is Muddy Creek Plantation, was purchased by W.E. Baynard's uncle, William Baynard from Benjamin Bayley and Daniel Savage "sometime in the 1780s". <sup>21</sup> W.E. Baynard then inherited the plantation which eventually passed to his sons. It was reported that "the Baynard holdings were inherited by William's son, Ephraim (1830-1875), who retained and managed them until 1861". <sup>22</sup>

Ephraim Baynard

Lastly. I nominate and appoint my Mosther Ephraim Mb. 43 ay mard, my relative William 6. Daymard of Eduto Island, S: Carolina, my son Ephraim, when he arrives at the age of twenty-one years;
my friends Dr. Franklin G. Pope, Richard R. Pope of Stillon Heat?
S. Carolina, and Jacob Waldburg Esquie, of the City of Savannah aforesaid, the Epocutors of this my last with and Vestament.

Ephraim Baynard, the son of W.E. Baynard, named as an executor of his estate.

Ephraim Baynard owned four plantations on the island, including one that was "800 acres very close to that traditionally known as Muddy Creek Plantation". Cotton was the primary crop grown on the plantation. <sup>23</sup> Following the fall of Hilton Head Island to Union troops in 1861, Ephraim left the island and "the estate of William Baynard claimed losses of $112,850, including 129 slaves valued at $91,000". <sup>24</sup>

According to the 1790 US Census, there were 20 enslaved persons on Muddy Creek estate at that time.<sup>25</sup> Ephraim Baynard was listed in the 1860 US Census as a planter with real estate and a personal estate valued at $18,000 and $57,000 respectively.<sup>26</sup>

No slave schedule related to a W. E. Baynard was located. This could be because of his death in 1849, before the 1850 Census. Therefore, we must look at the 'Slave Schedules' related to his heirs to get an idea of how many people he and his family enslaved in the Sea Islands.

Both 1850 and 1860 'U.S. Federal Census Slave Schedules' show the number of people enslaved by an Ephraim Baynard. As mentioned in the Methodology section, the names of the enslaved persons are not included in these 'slave schedules'. The 1850 'slave schedule' shows that Ephraim was the enslaver of 33 persons and the 1860 slave schedule shows that he enslaved 120 persons. In the latter case, E. Baynard enslaved persons "in trust for 4 minors". As Ephraim Baynard was one of the executors of his father's last will and testament, the minors in question may have been his siblings, three of whom were born in 1840 and three others in 1843, 1845 and 1849. There is also a possibility that this E. Baynard in question may have been W. E. Baynard's brother, also a prominent enslaver on the Sea Islands (see page 57 of the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report). He was also named as an executor of Baynard's estate. As such, he may have been the E. Baynard referred to in the 1850 and 1860 'Slave Schedules', holding the latter in trust for his nieces and nephews.

Buckingham Plantation

According to Hilton Head Island historian, Lou Benfante, Baynard acquired Buckingham Plantation in the 1820s.<sup>31</sup> Found in the collections of Robert Peeples, a letter between Richard A. Ellis to B.E. Willingham stated that, "William E. Baynard lived on Edisto Island, where he had larg [sic] laned property; and he owned besides, the splendid Buckingham Plantation near Bluffton, S.C. and on Hilton Head Island".<sup>32</sup>

The Heritage Library Foundation, using various sources such as SC Historical Society, Charleston, SC; South Carolina Estate Inventories and Bills of Sale, 1732-1872 - Inventories Of Estates, 1772-1785 > & (1772-1776); Soldiers of the USCT; Compiled records from US Govt Pension files and probates and wills amongst other references, published 'Documented Slaves of the Lowcountry' in 2022. Based on information contained in this resource, the following table provides the names of enslaved people on the Buckingham Plantation owned by W.E. Baynard:

Thomas & William Baynard's Inheritance

W.E. Baynard's father and uncle, Thomas Baynard and William Baynard (who purchased Muddy Creek between 1790-1792) <sup>35</sup> inherited several named enslaved persons and their "future issue" from their father William Baynard (1730-1773). <sup>36</sup> The following table gives the names of these enslaved persons as stated in William Baynard's will in 1772:

Table 6: Names of Enslaved Persons as stated in the 1772 Will of William Baynard <sup>37</sup>

The will of William Baynard specifically stated,

"I Give and Bequeath to my beloved Son Thomas Baynard five negroes...with all their future Issue and increase to him and his heirs forever".

The same is stated in relation to his other son, William Baynard.<sup>38</sup>

Therefore, the names of the above captioned enslaved persons as well as their descendants would have been enslaved by Thomas, William and their heirs on multiple estates, including Spanish Wells, Buckingham and Muddy Creek plantation.

C. Bailey

Taylor's firm received 46 bags of Sea Island cotton from a C. Bailey in October 1822 (see Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report, page 58). Given the time period, the C. Bailey referred to in the invoice was likely Charles Ernest Bailey (1792- 1836).<sup>39</sup> The Baileys were a prominent enslaver family that owned numerous intergenerational plantations on Edisto and the other Sea Islands.

C. E. Bailey's will in 1836, lists the name of one enslaved person "Lavinia" who he bequeathed to his wife, Sarah Grimball Bailey (1796-1847) and upon her death, to his son, Ephraim Clark Bailey (b. 1832).<sup>40</sup>

The name of an enslaved woman "Lavinia" can be seen in Bailey's will.

'40 Acres & a Mule'

The Freedmen's Bureau was helpful in locating the names of formerly enslaved persons likely associated with Bailey's plantations. However, a brief historical account on the origins of the Bureau and the political climate at the time, will firstly be given.

The old saying '40 acres & a mule' has its origins in Union general William T. Sherman Special Field Order No. 15 which declared on 16 January 1865, "that the Sea Islands on the coast of South Carolina and Georgia would be reserved for Freedmen". <sup>47</sup> This issue meant that 400,000 acres of land owned by enslavers, would be redistributed to freedmen and their families of the Sea Islands, more specifically, 40 acres and later a mule. This proposal, which was supposed to be one of the first reparative acts of the US government, was arrived at following a meeting with

"twenty Black leaders of the Savannah community, mostly Baptist and Methodist ministers". <sup>48</sup> It represented a historic and brief moment in US history where the opinion of formerly enslaved Africans and Black leaders resulted in a radical policy initiative. However, in a move to appease the Confederacy and wealthy Southern landowners after the Civil War ended, US President Andrew Johnson overturned Sherman's Order in the fall of 1865 and retuned most of the land to the planters and enslavers who formerly owned it. <sup>49</sup>

In complying with these definite instructions, the Bureau has been compelled to part with the greater portion of the property once under its control, except in the very few cases where property has been actually sold under the Act of July 19, 1862; and in that portion of South Carolina and Georgia embraced in the provisions of Gen. Sherman's Field Order No. 15, its tenure of property has been too uncertain to justify allotments to freedmen. In addition to the property seized under the Act of 1862, and abandoned property allotted to freedmen, 400,000 acres of abandoned land, not allotted to freedmen, have been restored to former owners.

Recapitulation.—Property seized under the Act of July, 1862, and restored by the Bureau, 15,452 acres; abandoned property allotted to freedmen, and restored by the Bureau, 14,652 acres; abandoned property not illotted to freedmen, restored by the Bureau, 400,000 acres. Total, 430,104 acres.

The Freedmen's Bureau

The US Congress passed an act on 3 March 1865, to temporarily establish 'the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands', also known as the 'Freedmen's Bureau'<sup>50</sup> following Sherman's Field Order No. 15. The Freedmen's Bureau in South Carolina, headed by Bvt. Maj. Gen. Rufus Saxton in 1865, conducted a myriad of activities pertaining to abandoned plantations and the relief of freedmen. The Bureau:

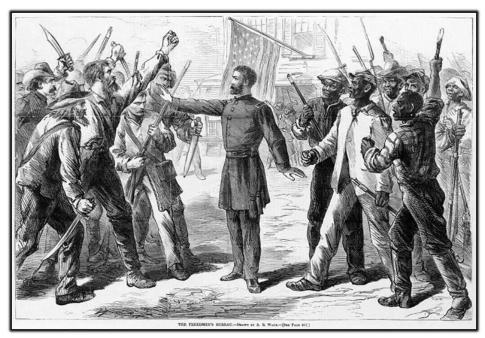

"issued rations and provided medical relief to both freemen and white refugees, supervised labor contracts between planters and freedmen,

In terms of the labour contracts between planters and the formerly enslaved, there was a reluctance by freedmen to sign such contracts. However, pressure from the Bureau and the threat of losing the land that they lived on, saw that "8,000 contracts were signed, and nearly 130,000 freedmen worked under labor contracts between the years 1865 and 1866".<sup>52</sup>

These labour contracts between planters and freedmen represent a rich source of information as it predates the 1870 census and recorded formerly enslaved persons "with newly-chosen surnames". For those tracing their ancestry, Freedmen's Bureau records can offer insight to where formerly enslaved persons were located before 1870 and "can often provide clues for discovering an ancestor's final slaveholder". 54

Prentiss

Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co. is listed in the Strutts' invoice book as receiving 77 bags of cotton from an J.O. Prentiss on 22 August 1822 (See page 60 of the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report). The Prentiss family were a prominent enslaver family who owned plantations in Colleton County, Fripp Island and St Helena Island. The names of several enslaved persons connected to the son of Jeffrey Otis Prentiss and Sarah Harriet Reynolds, Rev. William Otis Prentiss (1814-1897), were located through 'Bill of sales of Negro slaves, 1799-1872, Charleston District, South Carolina'.

An 1843 'Bill of sales of Negro slaves, 1799-1872, Charleston District, South Carolina' (image below) shows that William O. Prentiss sold the following 19 enslaved persons to Maria? C. Jenkins for $5295 <sup>56</sup>:

In 'Bill of sales of Negro slaves, 1799-1872' such as this, it was stated that the buyer would receive: "To have and to hold the said negro Slaves together with the future Issue and Increase of the females". Another such 'Bill of sale' (see image below) on 12 January 1843 in Charleston, South Carolina lists the names of 33 enslaved persons who were sold by Prentiss to Robert B. Jenkins for $10,000. Just as stated above, this 'Bill of sale' also included future offsprings and "increase of the females" <sup>59</sup>:

Buzzard's Roost Plantation

Rev. William Otis Prentiss owned Buzzard's Roost Plantation in St. Barthololmew's Parish, Colleton District, South Carolina, where he enslaved 172 persons.<sup>63</sup> The following '1850 U.S. Federal Census - Slave Schedule' provide details on some of the persons enslaved by Prentiss in Colleton County:

JAMAICA

George William Wood & Caymanas, Jamaica

During the course of the research process, searches were conducted in the 'Former British Colonial Dependencies, Slave Registers, 1813-1834' of Jamaica for persons who were enslaved by George William Wood. The names, age and occupation (field or domestic) of 28 enslaved persons were uncovered in a "Return of Slaves in the Island of Grand Caymans, in the possession of George Wm Wood as owner" on 2nd April 1834.<sup>66</sup> However, two questions arose from this record in relation to the Manchester Guardian- (i) Was this George William Wood the same Wood who was a Funder of the Manchester Guardian and partner in textile firm Philips, Wood & Co? (ii) Was this 'Slave Register' pertaining to George William Wood of Cayman Islands the same record listed in the LBS database under the "George William Wood" who was compensated £495 9s 8d for 28 enslaved people on Caymanas, Jamaica?

These questions mainly arose as genealogical records illustrate that a George William Wood (1773–1834) was a resident enslaver on the Cayman Islands. As such, if this was the person who was in fact listed on the LBS database, this would effectively mean that the George William Wood who was a Funder of the Manchester Guardian was not an enslaver, at least as far as the 'Slave Compensation' records are concerned. Also, a matter of confusion was the fact that Cayman Islands was part of Jamaica at the time of compensation and Caymanas is also a parish in St Catherine parish, Jamaica.

Preliminary research was conducted on George William Wood (1773–1834). Ancestry records show that:

- He was born in Sligo, Ireland
- He married Elizabeth Rebecca Bodden (1790-1823) on 28 October 1823 and then Susanna Dorothy Morton (1808–1898) following the death of his first wife.
- He had four children; John Jarrett Wood (1823–1885), William Waide Wood (1826–1892), Mary Ann Wood (1828–1905), Catherine Wood (1830–1854) <sup>67</sup>

This George William Wood was also a representative of Bodden Town, Cayman Islands and was part of 'the First Cayman Islands Legislative Assembly of Vestry and Justices' in December 1831. As shown in the picture below, his name was included as a representative for Bodden

In addition to genealogical and secondary research, clarification on this point was sought directly from the LBS team. Keith McClelland at the Centre for the Study of the Legacies of British Slavery, University College London, confirmed that the George William Wood listed on their database in connection to Caymanas, Jamaica was indeed the same George William Wood listed in the 'Slave Register' as an enslaver of 28 persons on the Cayman Islands. He stated:

"They are the same person. The source of possible confusion is that in the Slave Registers the place is referred to as the Caymans (or Cayman Islands or, as in the register entry you have sent, the 'Island of Grand Caymans'). On the other hand, the Parliamentary Paper which printed the list of claims and claimants, the area is known as the Caymanas. See the attached screenshot of

It is therefore safe to conclude that the George William Wood listed on the LBS database was not George William Wood (1781-1843), Funder of the Manchester Guardian and associate of John Edward Taylor but instead, George William Wood (1773–1834), a resident enslaver on the Cayman Islands who was memorialised as one of the "Founding Fathers of Democracy and Justice" on the island.

Success Estate, Hanover, Jamaica

As highlighted in the Taylor Report, Sir George Philips had both indirect and direct links with slavery. This section is concerned with his direct links and role as an enslaver in Hanover, Jamaica. George Philips was a partner in Boddington, Sharp and Philips, "a firm of West India merchants, with lucrative trading operations in sugar and other goods", 70 that was itself a major recipient of compensation for enslaved persons. Philip's partner in this firm, Samuel Boddington, was "one of the top thirty mercantile awardees of slave compensation". Success was the name of the Hanover, Jamaica estate registered to Boddington, Philips & Co and where Philips enslaved over 100 enslaved persons.

Sir George Philips is registered as an unsuccessful claimant of £1904 19s 10d (RPW: £189,000) for 108 enslaved persons on Success estate. <sup>74</sup> See pages 21 to 23 of the Taylor Report for the full case study on Sir George Philips.

Utilising 'Slave Registers', 'Runaway' Ads and trial accounts on 'rebellions', the names of over 100 enslaved persons on Success estate were unearthed. The tables below depict the names of the enslaved persons who were forced to work on Success plantation, growing and harvesting sugar for the profit of Boddington, Philips, Sharpe & Co. from the years 1817-1829.

The following names were found in the 'Former British Colonial Dependencies, Slave Registers, 1813-1834' for Jamaica, Hanover. Importantly, it notes the names of 105 persons (52 males and 53 females) who were enslaved on Success estate in 28th June 1817. At the time, the estate was in the "possession of William Stanford Grignon as attorney of Boddington, Philips, Sharpe & Co mortgagees in possession of Success Estate". To ffers a wealth of information and a glimpse as to who were the enslaved people who paid the price for Philips' West Indian sugar interests and profits.

The following table shows the names and details of the enslaved people on Success estate in  $28^{th}$  June 1820. This "Return of Slaves" stated that the "Number of Slaves on the  $28^{th}$  day of June 1820" was 100, with their being 4 "Births since last return" and 9 "Deaths since last return" or as it was generically recorded, "Increase Four" and "Decrease Nine". As such, some of the names from the 1817 list of enslaved persons may be repeated in the below 1820 'Slave Register'. This Return also refers to Philips' firm as mortgagees in possession:

"I William Stanford Grignon do swear that the above list and return is a true perfect and complete list and return to the best of my knowledge and belief in every paritculars therein mentioned of all and every slave and slaves possessed by me as Attorney to Boddington Philips Sharp & Co. Mortgagees in possession of Success Estate considered as most permanently settled worked on and employed in the parish of Hanover on the 18th day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred twnety without fraud deceit or evasion so help me God". <sup>78</sup>

The following "Return of Slaves" highlights the names of enslaved persons on Success estate on the 28th June 1829. At this time the plantation and the enslaved people were still "in the possession of William Stanford Grignon as attorney of Boddington, Philips, Sharpe & Co". 87

This Register states that the "Males by last return" was 47 and the "Females" were 48, with a "Total by last return" of 95 enslaved persons. The "Births since last return" were 5 and "Deaths since last return" were three. As of 28th June 1829, the number of enslaved persons recorded on Success plantation were 97. 90

Following 1829, later "Return of Slaves", likely for the same estate (given that some of the names of the enslaved persons are the same) lists "William Reynolds as attorney to Messrs Boddington + Davis" on 28th June 1832. <sup>91</sup> No records of Boddington, Philips, Sharpe & Co in the 'Former British Colonial Dependencies, Slave Registers, 1813-1834' pertaining to Hanover, Jamaica were found post 1829. This indicates that Philips' last known association with Success estate was in 1829, after which the plantation was registered to Boddington & Co. and Boddington & Davis. 92 Therefore, the names of the enslaved persons depicted above spanned from the known years of Sir George Philips' known association as mortgagee-in-possession of the enslaved people on Success estate, Hanove, Jamaica, 1817 to 1829.

'Runaway' & 'Apprehended Deserters' Ads

The names of enslaved persons associated with Success estate were also found in 'runaway' Royal Gazette of Jamaica newspaper ads. The following ads are illustrative of 'apprehended deserters' who were 'runaways' from Success estate.

These ads underscore a disturbing reality of enslavement in the West Indies; workhouses. 'Runaways', when they were 're-captured', were deemed 'apprehended deserters' and held in workhouses until they were "claimed" and taken back to the estates. <sup>93</sup>

Additionally, the ads below highlight the years 1815 and 1825 to 1827. As such, two of the names highlighted below correspond with names found in the above captioned 'Return of Slaves' lists.

The ad above illustrates the name of an enslaved person, Aurelia, who was described as a "runaway". The name of his enslaver "Mr Gordon" and plantation, "Success estate, Hanover" is also listed in the ad. William Gordon and his heirs were the owners of Success estate from 1815 to 1817.<sup>94</sup> The ad also contains 'identifying markers' such as a scar; "a mark not plain on left shoulder" and Aurelia's ethnicity "Chamba".<sup>95</sup>

The ads below show that Aurelia was seemingly still in the Westmoreland Workhouse on 5 October 1815 but was moved to a Hanover Workhouse by 24 October 1815.<sup>96</sup>

Another advert in the Royal Gazette of Jamaica shows an enslaved woman, Nanny Grignon, also described as a "Chamba". Another marker cited in the ad was Nanny's "large scar on right shoulder". Grignon, who was the attorney for Boddington, Philips, Sharpe & Co of Success estate was also named in the "Apprehended Deserters" ad.<sup>97</sup> An enslaved woman named Nanny alias Eliza Davison (b. 1798) was depicted above in Table 21, on the 28 June 1823 'Slave Register' for Success Estate.

'Runaway' ads included descriptions on physical features such as scars, clothes but also language and ethnicity. Analysis of a sample of 1,145 enslaved persons whose African ethnicity was named in the "Royal Gazette (Kingston) Jan. 1791–Feb. 1792, and Cornwall Chronicle (Montego-Bay) Jan.–Dec. 1814", 'runaway' and 'apprehended deserters' ads, revealed that "only nine major groupings account for 94 per cent of all Africans with a named ethnicity". These ethnic groups included "Mandingo, Coromantee, Chamba, Papa, Nago, Eboe, Moko, Mungola, Congo". Though ascriptive in nature and representative of a colonialist means to group enslaved Africans into 'types', Aurelia and Nanny's stated ethnicity does provide some insight to his African ancestry. Contemporary definitions of the Chamba state that:

"The Chamba are an ethnic group composed of speakers of two quite different languages belonging to the Niger-Congo family. In ethnographic literature, these languages are traditionally called Daka and Leko ... [and] speakers of many dialects of both of these languages identify themselves as members of the Chamba ethnic group ... Chambaland, i.e. the central Chamba area, where the majority of the Chamba live, straddles the present border between Nigeria and Cameroon". 99

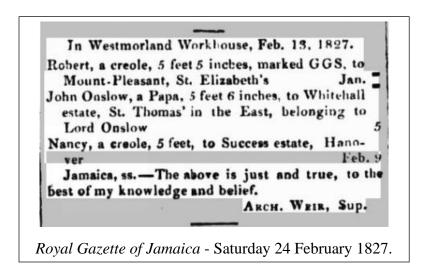

The following advert depicts an enslaved woman named Nancy, "a creole, 5 feet, to Success estate, Hannover". 'Creole' "in the British Caribbean this term was used to describe anyone born or raised in the region". <sup>100</sup> This term is used differently today in local Caribbean colloquial dialect, however, in the past and in 'Slave Registers' such as in the case of Success estate, the enslaved people were labelled as either 'Creole' or 'African'.

Sam Kerr was another enslaved person associated with Success estate and recorded as an 'apprehended deserter' in an 1826 Royal Gazette of Jamaica ad. He was described as a "creole boy, 5 feet 3 inches". This was likely the same Sam Kerr who is listed in the 28 June 1823 'Slave Register' depicted above in Table 20. He would have been about 19 years old.

The following ads name an enslaved man, Phoenix, from Success estate, and provides details on his physical features and scarification; "a creole, 5 feet 4 inches, marked AI on left and R on right shoulder" held in a Hanover Workhouse in September and October 1825.

There is also a tale of an uprising linked to the Success estate. The name of an enslaved man, Granville, was unearthed in the *Narrative of certain events connected with the late disturbances in Jamaica, and the charges preferred against the Baptist Missionaries in that Island: being the substance of a letter, etc.<sup>101</sup> The 'disturbances' referred to being The Baptist War (1831-1832), also known as the 'Christmas Rebellion'. Led by Samuel Sharpe and considered one of the largest uprisings in the British West Indies, it involved 60,000 to 300,000 enslaved people. It was labelled the Baptist War since many of the enslaved freedom fighters were Baptist.<sup>102</sup> Granville, who was termed a "prisoner" for his role in the uprising, was a member of a church, the Gurney's Mount Church.<sup>103</sup> A Gurney's Mt. was established in  $1830.^{104}$  It is likely that other enslaved persons from Success estate would have been members of its congregation.

Seemingly a Baptist himself, Granville was questioned in around 1832, on whether his ministers encouraged him to "rebel". He stated that "his ministers, Mr. Burchell and Mr. Abbott, never told him to rebel; on the contrary, they told him to do good". The Christmas Uprising and the brutality of the plantocracy retaliation is said to have accelerated emancipation. Granville's story is representative of an important time in Caribbean and British history. It is not known what happened to Granville after he was questioned. Like many other enslaved people, his story and who he was, has been lost.

Exploring who were the enslaved people and attempting to trace their descendants is an ambitious but necessary task, one that is increasingly important in producing a more holistic narrative of Britain's legacy of slavery and colonialism. It is hoped that the names of the enslaved people highlighted in this report can underscore the perspectives and stories of the enslaved people and allow us to see them; the real people who bore the brunt of Britain's capitalism and enslavement.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Additional Research

- 1. As it pertains to the Sea Islands and Taylor's firm, conduct follow-up research on:
  - Sea Island enslavers to pinpoint who exactly were the enslavers cited as "J.O Prentiss", "J.F. O'hear", "PP Turnbull C" in the W.G. and J. Strutt Invoice Book, 1822-1825.
  - ii. Identifying what were the plantations and who were the enslavers who supplied Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co with Sea Island cotton from Hutchinson Island and St Simons Island.
  - iii. Uncovering who were the enslaved people associated with these identified enslavers and their Sea Island plantations.
  - iv. Gurney's Mt. Baptist Church, Hanover, Jamaica- contacting the Church, looking at the history of the church, whether other enslaved people from Success estate were members of its congregation, tracing descendants of the enslaved through their church records & oral history.
- 2. Committing more time and resources to:
  - i. Tracing the descendants of the enslaved people of the Sea Islands who were connected to plantations which supplied Shuttleworth, Taylor & Co. with cotton.
  - ii. Continue research on identifying who were the enslaved people on Success Estate, Hanover, Jamaica and trace their descendants.

This step would partly entail archival research in South Carolina and Jamaica.

Updates to the Taylor Report

- 3. Amend the Taylor Report and the Scott Trust Legacies of Enslavement Report to reflect updated and new findings, namely on:
  - i. George William Wood
  - ii. The names of the enslaved people of the Sea Islands and Jamaica connected to Taylor's firm and George Philips

These updates should be made by the original authors of the reports.

Public Engagement & Consultation

- 4. Consult with the descendant communities in Jamaica and the Sea Islands to co-produce outcomes and ascertain how best to remember and acknowledge the role of the enslaved men, women and children who were forced to toil in the name of profits, sugar and cotton.
- 5. Given the finding on Granville, an enslaved man on Success estate who was connected to the Gurney's Mount Church, efforts should be made to contact Gurney's Mt. Baptist Church, Hanover, Jamaica to discuss possible reparative options.
