Publications and Conference Papers

Books
(with Roger Knight), Sustaining the Fleet 1793-1815: War, the British Navy and the Contractor State (Boydell & Brewer, 2010).

Chapters

Edited Volumes
(with Robb Robinson and Matthew McCarthy), Human and Environmental Interactions in the Development of the North Atlantic Fisheries (Hull, 2015)

Articles
‘“A Record of Abortive Enquiries and Devoid of Achievement?” The Work and Significance of the White Fish Authority, 1951-1981.’ Forthcoming.

‘These Peaceable Times are the Devil’: Royal Navy Officers in the post-war slump, 1815-1825,’ in International Journal of Maritime History, XXVI (August 2014).

‘The “Poor Decayed Seamen” of Greenwich Hospital, 1705-1763,’ in International Journal of Maritime History, XXV (June 2013).

‘The “Mystery and Business” of Navy Agents, c1700-1820,’ in International Journal of Maritime History XXIII (December 2011).

‘“This Great Complex Concern:” Victualling the Royal Navy on the East Indies Station, 1783-1815,’ in Mariner’s Mirror 97 (May 2011).

‘From Brixham to Hull; The Diffusion of Apprenticeship in the Trawl Fisheries, c1840-1914,’ in Maritime South West 17 (2004).