

The Institute of Applied Ethics presents:

Beyond Displacement/Exile: Building a Future for Women Leaders in Academia

Wednesday 19th of June 2024

Hybrid event, online and at the University of Hull, UK

AMB TR1 (Allam Medical Building)

In this event, we will discuss how Universities can support displaced /exiled staff and students and promote the leadership of women and diverse groups in academia. We will share good practices transferable to other higher education institutions and a non-academic context. This event launches the project 'Fostering Women's Leadership in Ukrainian Academia. An Intersectional and Culturally Responsive Perspective' funded by the British Council.

Everybody is welcome and the event includes lunch.

Please register here.

Programme

10.00 Presentation of the project 'Fostering Women's Leadership in Ukrainian Academia. An Intersectional and Culturally Responsive Perspective' funded by the British Council

Dr. Stella Gonzalez-Arnal, University of Hull and Colm McGivern Director of Ukraine, British council.

10.20 'The Importance of International Collaboration in Modern Universities: the Twinning between Mariupol State University and The University of Hull'

Hilary Layton, Executive Director of Global Strategy, Global Strategy Office, University of Hull

10.40 'From Displacement to Resilience. The Challenges and Solutions for a University in Exile'

Dr. Tetyana Marena, Vice-Rector for Scientific and Pedagogical Affairs at Mariupol State University

11.00 'Creating Supportive Career Pathways for Women and Minority Ethnic Colleagues: the Faculty of Business, Law and Politics's Journey'

Professor Joe Cook, Business School, University of Hull (online)

11.30 'Uprooted Yet Connected: the Faculty of Foreign Languages Fosters Education and Research'

Dr. Natalia Pyrlík, Dean of the Faculty of Foreign Languages, Mariupol State University

Maxym Styopin (Deputy Dean)

12.00 Questions to all the speakers

12.20 Lunch

1.30 'Embracing Leadership, Gender Equality and Inclusiveness through Visual Arts'

Dr. Natalia Marakhovska, Mariupol State University

2.20 'From Refugee Students to Student Refugees. A study of Chilean Exiles in Hull, UK'

Dr. Ruth Aedo-Richmond

2.50 Questions for speakers

In partnership with Mariupol State University.

Supported by funding from the British Council's Going Global Partnerships programme.

Going Global Partnerships supports universities, colleges and wider education stakeholders around the world to work together towards stronger, equitable, inclusive, more internationally connected higher education, science and TVET.